

Asset Intelligence with an Impact

The complete solution for real-time asset intelligence that boosts utilization of equipment, reduces operating costs, and delivers measurable ROI.

Visibility is Power.

The Current State

The potential of RTLS asset tracking is well understood, but getting there has been a different matter. Expensive equipment, disruptive installations, and long project timelines have frustrated users and kept savings on the sidelines. Hospitals are littered with stalled projects and systems that aren't delivering the expected capabilities or financial returns.

The Future State

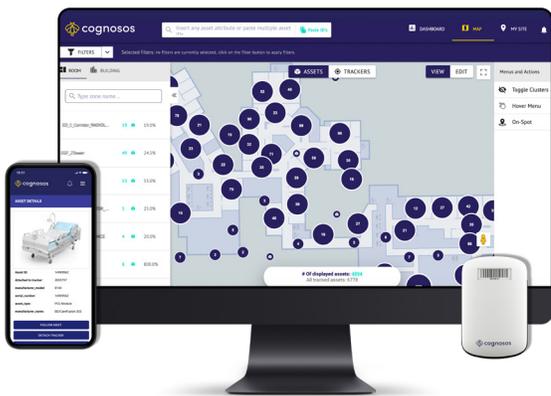

There's a better way. New technologies enable solutions that are cost effective and can be implemented easily. Low power requirements drastically extend battery life and completely eliminate the need for new cabling. And Bluetooth, the low-cost, pervasive network technology built into everything from phones to equipment and lighting, is widely available and easily leveraged, drastically reducing upfront costs and providing a seamless solution for real-time, clinical-level asset intelligence.

How Cognosos Gets You There

Cognosos provides room-level, facility-wide asset tracking at the lowest cost of ownership, delivering revolutionary RTLS by combining Bluetooth technology with its patented, long-range wireless network. Battery-operated beacons are used in conjunction with AI models to automatically build a digital map of your facility. Smart tags, attached to your equipment, gather beacon data and seamlessly deliver it to the Cognosos portal, resulting in instant visibility to your assets using cloud-based applications and analytics that deliver measurable ROI.

Resulting Benefits

With bare-minimum infrastructure and the ability to leverage existing Bluetooth capabilities, installation is cost-effective and easy. No equipment is placed in patient rooms, no ceiling tiles are moved, and no cables are pulled. With no disruption to clinical operations, minimal upfront costs and the ability to accelerate deployment, Cognosos provides the fastest time to value, paired with an ROI guaranteed to excite your CFO.

Connect

Bring your assets online with long range, cost-effective, reliable wireless technology.

Inform

Gain real-time visibility to assets enabling you to make informed, data-driven decisions.

Optimize

Use advanced analytics to streamline your operations and grow your bottom line.

Cognosos provides the complete solution for real-time asset intelligence that boosts utilization of equipment, reduces operating costs, and delivers a better patient experience.
